Call before you Dig

One call can save you money

It's time for yard projects and whether you're fencing, landscaping or building a deck, the law requires you to call 811 before you dig. This free call will tell utilities of your outdoor plans to ensure you will be digging in a safe place and not hit any underground cables. It's free and it's the law.

Step 1: Call New Mexico One Call (dial 811) and notify them of the area where digging is planned.

Step 2: New Mexico One Call then uses its computer system to notify members who have underground facilities in the area to be excavated.

Step 3: Members who have underground facilities in the area to be excavated have two working days to mark their whereabouts.

Step 4: Underground facilities at the excavation site are marked with markers, (stakes or paint) that are valid for 5 working days.

Step 5: The excavator can then safely start digging!

Step 6: If the excavation work is going to exceed 10 working days, call for relocates on the seventh day.

C Call before you dig
A Await the required time
R Respect the marks
E Excavate with care

P Pregunte y llame antes de excavar
A Aténgase al tiempo de espera
R Respete las señales
E Excave con cuidado

Rate Increase Effective June 1st

La Jicarita is proud to be your local provider of telephone services.

We've been serving the Mora and Wagon Mound areas since 1965 with basic telephone service and throughout the years, have continuously brought you state of the art related services. La Jicarita has not raised rates for telephone services for more than 30 years and will continue, "working together to stay connected."

Due to new federal regulations by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), all telecommunication companies must raise rates for residential and business basic local service in order to maintain universal service funding. The rate increase will take place in stages over the next two years. As a way to adjust for this increase, La Jicarita will be including the voicemail feature into your phone plan, free of charge! This is a value of $4.95 (residential) and $14.95 (business). Below is more detailed information about these new rates and when they will go into effect.

Effective June 1, 2016, La Jicarita Rural Telephone Cooperative will increase the monthly charge for residential basic local service from $16.20 to $18.00, an increase of $1.80. Business basic local service will increase from $25.78 to $27.58, an increase of $1.80. This rate increase relates to rules adopted by the FCC that requires residential rates to be at a minimum level or La Jicarita will lose funding from the FCC's universal service fund (USF) program. A primary goal of USF is to keep local service rates in high cost areas affordable and comparable with rates in urban areas. The next increase will become effective June 1, 2017.
